Dear Dan:

Re: CJ-2219

Amendment No. 6 extends rates established by Appendix IV Amendment 5 through 29 December 1958.

We request that these rates be extended from 30 December 1958 through 25 January 1959.

We further suggest that the attached rates be made effective 26 January 1959 through 14 June 1959. You will note that the burden rate (which is provisional) is down 3 points from our previous figures although the labor rate has increased by 5% due to a general wage increase in 26 January 1959.

We have recently inaugurated a practice of adding 11% Burden to all material to cover the cost of purchasing, receiving, inspection and storage. However, because of our relationship with you, this charge will not be made on this particular contract.

Your letter DPD-0814-59 (30 January 1959) accepts our recommendations to establish quality control procedures. Perhaps this amendment can be incorporated also in the above.
